Agenda Item:
Rooster ban

Comments:

Grandfather in the roosters that all ready here. There are MUCH worse neighborhood noises than roosters and/or chickens. My two 'favorites' are leaf blowers and booming car stereos. I am not a poultry expert. My understanding is that these birds are active during daylight hours when most people are awake. One of my neighbors a few doors away has chickens that I can hear during the day and I do not find them bothersome in the least. I do find leaf blowers very disruptive (not to mention polluting) and loud card stereos very disturbing, especially after midnight. The families that all ready have roosters should be allowed to keep them.
