7. I am writing to express my serious growing concerns on city council's project to convert the Arden Health center to a homeless shelter. First I'd like to say that I do care about those who don't have a house to live in, and I just think there must be some other ways to solve the problem, instead of putting the whole local community at risk of increasing crimes, trade of drugs and unsafety.

I have lived in Richmond Highland community for almost three years and I love it because it provides a quiet, peaceful environment. There are children and teenagers practicing baseball, footballs all year around and the baseball field is only 1-min's walk away from the place you plan to build the shelter. It is horrifying just to think about what might happen if you let it happen. A low-barrier shelter is the one to accept homeless without them showing ID. You have no idea at all what kind of people will come and what they will do. It is very likely that these people will bring drugs, alcohols and thus our community will suffer from great safety threat.

And I am most outraged because Nobody from city council ever reached out to the community. Then what do I pay my property tax for? I didn't even get to know such a big change will happen in my community? What all of these is done behind curtain???! This is dictatorship! !!! Please hear from who truly live in the community!
