7. A shelter with wraparound services is badly needed in this area. Many of the homeless people that I have talked to grew up here, and stay because their friends are here. Any trouble they could make is already here, and experience elsewhere shows we will spend less money on police and court services as we invest in stabilizing lives. We will also need to invest in supporting this neighborhood so they continue to experience the safe and thriving Shoreline that brought or kept them here. This is the right thing to do as we face a potential tsunami of homelessness in the coming years.
