6. Building height and density.
7. The reason this city exists is because the people who live here did not want to live in Seattle. We don't want Seattle's high-density population. The only people to gain are the developers. Our quality of life is the most important thing you can protect. Say no to big apartment buildings. Single family homes are worth protecting. Seattle and King County have created the hole that they live in. Don't let that happen to Shoreline.

Thank you,
